Cleveland Sends Minister Willis
Further Instructions

TOUCHING HAWAIIAN MATTERS

Revenue Cutter Corwin Sailed Last
Night With a Special Messenger
Carrying Special Orders.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The news from Hawaii today was a surprise to the public. The administration people have been insisting so long that the government was on the verge of a crisis, that the news that the cutter Corwin had sailed last night with a special messenger carrying special orders, was a surprise to the public. It was also a surprise that the revenue cutter which left San Francisco yesterday went to Honolulu with the additional instructions that the cutter should sail at full speed. There is a belief in diplomatic circles that there has been a slip-up, just what cannot be discovered, as the state department is close-mouthed on the subject. Some members of the diplomatic corps go as far as to predict that the cutter will never be restored. But this prediction, it can be reliably stated, is not in accordance with the belief of the president, and it is his firm opinion that if she is not already restored she will be within a day or two after the arrival of the revenue cutter carrying the additional instructions to Minister Willis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Hawaiian Consul Wilber, when he read the news which arrived last night from Honolulu via Port Townsend, said: "I think Minister Willis found that the men composing the provisional government of Hawaii were high-minded, law-abiding citizens instead of filibusterers, as he had been led to believe them to be. This news will have a great effect on the people of the United States and I hope the administration will be forced by popular opinion to change its view on the Hawaiian question."

The revenue cutter Corwin sailed shortly before midnight last night. Her destination is a secret, but it is supposed she is going to Honolulu with instructions for Minister Willis. The captain of the Corwin refused to take letters from Consul Wilber, saying she did not know where he was going. The general belief is that the cutter is on her way to the islands all circumstances pointing to the fact that she was loaded and provisioned for a long trip. The smuggling operations in the north have become so extensive of late, that it is just possible that the Corwin is going after illegal opium traffickers.

HORNBLOWER AGAIN NAMED.

Cleveland Once More Sends His Name to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Judge Hornblower has been recommended for associate justice of the supreme court. This move on the president's part had been expected. The opposition, however, is just as strong as ever. There will certainly be a sharp fight in committee and in the senate over the nomination, but Mr. Cleveland has doubtless satisfied himself that his man will be confirmed. The president also sent in the following nominations of consuls who failed of confirmation at the last session: V. H. Clay Armstrong, Jr., of Alabama, at Greenville, France; Newton B. Ashby of Iowa, at Dublin, Ireland; Marcelus L. Davis of Arkansas, at Merida, Spain.

Also these recess appointments: Frank H. Dabney of Louisiana, to be consulting engineer of the United States on the international boundary commission provided for in the convention with Mexico March 1, 1899; John E. Proctor of Kentucky, to be civil service commissioner.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Some Massachusetts Cities Will Go Dry Next Year.

Boston, Dec. 5.—Municipal elections were held today in twenty-one cities in the state outside of Boston. Results so far as learned are as follows:

New Bedford.—S. A. Brownell (independent) elected mayor.
Pittsfield.—J. C. Crosby (democratic) elected mayor; no license.
Pittsfield.—Edgar S. Moulton (democratic) elected mayor; no license.
Marblehead.—W. N. Davenport (republican) elected mayor; license.
Fall River.—May J. W. Coughlin (democratic) elected mayor; license.
Gloucester.—Col. B. F. Cook (republican) elected mayor; license.
Taunton.—W. R. Hodgman (republican) elected mayor; license.

VAN ALLEN'S SUCCESSOR.

Cadwalader Said to be the Man.
What Gresham Says.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—It was reported today that John Cadwalader of this city has been named to the president in connection with the appointment as American ambassador to Italy. Mr. Cadwalader was minister of port under the previous Cleveland administration.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Senator Voorhees of the financial committee on the tariff, James McPherson (democratic), New Haven; West (democratic), Madison; and Aldrich and Allison (republicans).

The meeting of the finance committee yesterday indicates there will probably be no financial legislation at this session of congress at least until long after the tariff bill has been disposed of.

Chairman Hatch of the agricultural committee announces that the anti-opium bill will certainly be presented to the house again this session.

Judge Lambert Trow of Chicago is talked of for ambassador to Italy.

MICHIGAN HARBORS.

Estimates for Appropriations for the Fond du Lac State.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The secretary of the treasury makes the following estimates of appropriations required for the different public works in Michigan for the ensuing fiscal year: Continuing improvement of St. Mary's river, $500,000; Bay Lake channel, $100,000; Black river, $50,000; mouth of Black river, $100,000; Detroit river, $100,000; Saginaw river, $100,000; St. Clair Plate ship canal, $100,000; St. Joseph's river, $20,000; Thunder Bay river, Lake Superior, $500,000; Chippewa river, $500,000; Grand Haven, $100,000; Grand Haven, $100,000; Holland (Lake Michigan), $100,000; Ludington, $100,000; Manistowish, $100,000.

$100,000; Marquette, $100,000; Monroe, $100,000; Muskegon, $100,000; Ontonagon, $100,000; Port Huron, $100,000; Portage Lake, $100,000; St. Joseph, $100,000; Sand Beach, $100,000; Saugatuck, $100,000; South Haven, $100,000; White Lake, $100,000; Manistowish, $100,000.

SLOT MACHINES.

One of the Most Novel of Them Is Ten Thousand Years Old.

Probably one of the latest appliances of the principle governing the operation of the slot machine is found in the hot water fountains which have been brought out in France, says Cassier's Magazine.

These fountains are put up in the public street and afford the convenience of supplying at any hour of the day or night a certain quantity of hot water in return for a coin of certain value, which is dropped into the slot in the now so familiar way. The dropping of the coin automatically governs the flow of water from the street mains through a small boiler, heated by a series of gas jets, and similarly regulates the quantity of gas which is admitted, and which is lighted by means of a small, constantly maintained jet.

The French hot water machine brings back to mind very strikingly the apparatus designed more than two thousand years ago by Hero, of Alexandria, which furnishes one of many similar illustrations of the extent to which the ancients made use of what are often supposed to be entirely modern ideas.

Curiously enough, Hero's machine, it may here be repeated, was operated by a coin representing five drachmas. The coin, in falling, struck a lever, opened a valve and let out a small quantity of holy water. When the coin fell off the lever the valve was closed.

Hero went still further, however, by inventing an automatic bartender on the coin-in-the-slot principle. This was a vase containing three kinds of liquor in different compartments, with a faucet arranged so as to be opened part of the way by one coin, still further yet by a larger or heavier coin, and then still further by a still larger or heavier coin.

The extent to which the faucet was opened determined which chamber should communicate with it, and hence which of the three liquors should be allowed to escape. This machine, apparently, has not yet been reinvented.

FIXING HANNAH.

The Marriage Knot Which Was Tied by Hanna.

The circuit rider for a mountain district in West Virginia was stopping for a day or two at the place where he was to preach on Sunday and to him a mountaineer came with a buxom mountain maid and wanted to be married then and there.

"Where is your license?" asked the minister.

"The man was surprised. 'We don't have to have no license, do we? We ain't goin' to sell liquor.'"

"That was all the license he knew about."

The minister explained to him and he rode away two miles to the county seat and later in the day appeared with the license.

"That cost me a dollar, mister," he said, ruefully. "Do you charge anything?"

"You can pay me whatever you please, but I never charge less than a dollar."

"Well, I've only got half a dollar, mister, and won't get the balance till after harvest."

The minister hesitated, because he thought the mountaineer was trying to cheat him, and while he was willing to perform the ceremony gratis, he didn't want to cut prices. All at once the mountaineer put in:

"I've got it, mister," he exclaimed, showing the half-dollar at him. "Here's half yer price. Now you marry Hanna to me. They ain't anybody livin' that I want but Hanna and Hanna kinder hankers for a whole passel of feller that is better lookin' than I am but ain't so well off; so if you fix her fixed you needn't worry about me at all. Take your half dollar and go ahead on Hanna. You kin fix me."

"I've got it, mister," he exclaimed, showing the half-dollar at him. "Here's half yer price. Now you marry Hanna to me. ## ORIGIN OF NAMES.

Early History of Some of the Persons
Whose Names are in This Issue.

Johnson, Jones, Jenkins, Jennings, Jack, Jackson, Littlejohn, Mickeljohn, Joyner, and many others are the sons of plain John.

Strong, Long, Short, Biggs, Little, Low, Small, Night, Fatt, Stout, Young, Light and Heavy were all given in nicknames.

White, Black, Brown, Gray, Green, Red, and Red, Redd and a few more originated in peculiarities of dress and complexion.

Clark was the village peddler and the father of a long line who spell their name in many ways.

Sanders, Sanderson, Sanderson, are variations of Alexander, a favorite name in Scotland.

Crook, Crump, Cramp and Crimp are but changes rung on an old nickname for a cripple.

Pattons were overshoots, hence the Pattons, Patons, Pattersons, Purners and Putnams.

Hark, Barker and Barley show the importance of bark in early English times.

Calvert was once a calf head; so also were the Calverds, Coverts and Calverds.

Miller, Milman, Milla, Millar and Millard all have the same derivation. Shot was formerly a herd, hence the Stottards and Stottards.

Payne, Paine and the like are contractions of Pagan.

Crocker and Crocker had fathers who made earthenware.

Chandler was once a candlemaker.

They Never Speak Now.

Aggie—Does he want to marry me? He must be a fool!

Doll (encouragingly)—He must be.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS

Today is Presented the Testimony of Another of the Trusted Citizens of This City, Attesting the Remarkable Success of Drs. Copeland and Graham in Treating Catarrhal Troubles and Chronic Diseases—Read What He Says.

Uniform and successful results in severe chronic cases of sickness, and in most instances, after the patient had become thoroughly disgusted with the ordinary methods, is the kind of evidence that Drs. Copeland and Graham have been producing each week, that the people of Grand Rapids may know that they make sure and radical cures of many cases of catarrhal trouble, and chronic diseases pronounced incurable by other physicians.

Drs. Copeland and Graham ask you, if you are sick, to make them a call for FREE AND CONFIDENTIAL CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION.

Mr. Henry Cushman's Case.

Mr. Cushman, a gentleman well known in this city, and who resides at 96 Second street, west side, says:

"I am glad to testify to the skill and success of Drs. Copeland and Graham in the treatment of my case. I had catarrhal trouble of long standing. My eyesight
